“We need milk, eggs, fruit—
and our churn for stirring them up so they become
ice cream,”
said Willow Tuskaroo.

“And our bikes!”
her little brother,
Wilbur, chimed in.

It was Bike Rally Day in Honeysuckle Hollow.

The Tuskaroo family
were bringing their Scoops Ice Cream truck
to the rally.

---

“All the kids will love
our yummy, homemade,
fresh-churned ice cream!”
said Willow.

“It’s flipper-fantastic!”
said Wilbur.

---

Soon Wilbur, Willow,
and their parents,
Winnie and Walter,
reached the meadow.

But oh no!
It was filled with so many Honeysuckle Hollow kids
on their bikes...

...far more kids than any of them had expected.

“We’ll never be able to make enough ice cream for them all,”
Willow said nervously.

---

“My friends will be so sad if they can’t have scrumptious ice cream,” said Wilbur.

But Winnie said, “Don’t get in a flipper-flap, kids. Off you go and enjoy the rally. Your dad and I will think of a plan.”

So, the Tuskaroo kids headed off.

They raced on
the obstacle course.

They watched bike tricks.

They even played
bike basketball!

“Biking is fun, but I’m excited to have an ice cream cone soon!” Miles GrayPaws said to the Tuskaroo kids.

“Me too!”
said Siku Van North.

---

The scavenger hunt was starting, but the Tuskaroo kids needed to head to the truck.

“Mom, Dad,” called Willow as she and Wilbur arrived.

“Did you think of a good plan?”

---

“Just now!” said Winnie.
“And you’re both here
right in time to help!”

The Tuskaroo parents
told the kids their plan
as they hurried to the bike repair booth.

Wilbur and Willow
and their parents hunted
through the equipment.

Soon they returned to the Scoops Ice Cream truck
with their arms full of gears,
gizmos, and gadgets.

They all went around
back and—tap, tap, tap!
Clink, clink, clink!
Whirr, whirr!

As the other kids arrived,
out came the Tuskarroos with...

---

...their flapper-flip-tastic
contraption.

“Ta-da!” Willow announced.
“Instead of churning
the ice cream by hand,
we’ll use pedal power
to make more of it faster!”

“We put the ice cream ingredients, salt, and ice into the bucket,” said Wilbur.

“When we pedal,”
Willow explained, “it turns the gear, which turns the paddle...”

---

“...which churns the ingredients until they become ice cream,”
said Wilbur.

“Who wants a flipper-delicious cone?”

“Me! Me!”
shouted all the kids.

---

By the end of the day,
all the kids were tired
but happy—especially Wilbur and Willow.

Their family had found a way to make
flipper-flap-fabulous
ice cream cones for everyone!
